Answer Key

1. B) Parking available — A blue square with 'P' is the parking information sign.
2. B) Guide drivers to services and facilities — Information signs advise and guide drivers to hospitals, parking, gas stations, rest areas.
3. D) Speed limit sign — Speed limit is a prohibition sign (red circle), not an information sign (blue square).
4. C) Blue — Blue square or rectangular signs are information signs that provide guidance.
5. This is a parking sign. It directs you to available parking facilities. Follow the arrow if one is shown.
6. This is a hospital information sign. It directs drivers to the nearest medical facility. Useful in emergencies.
7. This is a speed camera sign. It warns you that your speed is being monitored. Reduce speed and drive safely.
8. Blue square or rectangle. The blue color indicates guidance and information, not prohibition.
9. They guide drivers to services and facilities — parking, hospitals, gas stations, rest areas, tourist attractions.
10. Unlike prohibition signs, information signs are advisory. However, some (like speed cameras) indicate monitoring.
