Cevap Anahtarı

1. D) The car speeding down the highway was red. — Option 4 correctly places the participial phrase 'speeding down the highway' directly before the noun 'car' it modifies, creating a clear and concise sentence.
2. A) The scientist discovered a new species living deep within the ocean. — Option 0 places the participial phrase 'living deep within the ocean' directly after 'a new species', clearly indicating that the species is what lives deep within the ocean. Option 3 incorrectly suggests the scientist lives deep within the ocean.
3. A) The painting, by the famous artist, was priceless. — Option 0 correctly places the prepositional phrase 'by the famous artist' immediately after 'The painting' it modifies, functioning as an adjective phrase.
4. 1. Identify the noun being modified: Look for the word the adjective phrase is describing. 2. Check proximity: Ensure the adjective phrase is as close as possible to the noun it modifies. 3. Evaluate meaning: Does the placement make logical sense? Does it create ambiguity? Correct Example: The student, exhausted from studying all night, finally fell asleep. (Here, 'exhausted from studying all night' clearly modifies 'The student'.) Incorrect Example: The student fell asleep, exhausted from studying all night. (While sometimes acceptable, this can be less direct and potentially ambiguous depending on context.) Incorrect Example: Exhausted from studying all night, the student fell asleep. (This structure is generally correct but can sometimes be used to create ambiguity if not careful.)
5. 1. Noun: 'The report' 2. Adjective Phrase: 'very detailed and thorough' 3. Placement: The phrase is placed after the noun it modifies, separated by a comma. This is a common and acceptable structure for descriptive phrases. 4. Meaning: The placement clearly indicates that the report was detailed and thorough.
6. 1. Noun: 'a dog' 2. Adjective Phrase (participle phrase): 'running quickly down the street' 3. Placement: The phrase directly follows the noun it modifies, acting as a descriptor. This is grammatically correct and clear. 4. Meaning: It clearly describes the dog's action.
7. Genellikle hemen önce gelmeli veya anlam bütünlüğünü bozmayacak şekilde en yakın ve mantıklı konumda olmalıdır.
8. Yüklem, sıfat tamlamasının nitelediği özne ile doğrudan bir bağlantı kurduğunda.
9. Anlam karmaşası yaratabilir ve cümlelerin doğruluğunu bozabilir.
